KPHA 2006 Fall Conference Information, Power Points and Pictures!

The 2006 KPHA Fall Conference, "Speaking a Common Language, the New Voice of Public Health" was a record-breaking conference. Over 375 people roamed the halls at one time or another during the conference. The preliminary results of the overall conference evaluation filled out by attendees indicated the conference was a great success. Plans are already underway for next year's conference in Wichita! We are working with Mary Fusco, KU School of Medicine, on a grant for the Conference and KPHLI efforts at the Hyatt in 2007. If you are interested in being part of this spectacular "coming together of public health professionals" let your Board and staff know!

Thanks to everyone who attended the KPHA 2006 Fall Conference! It was a wonderful event due to the efforts of our members, speakers, and vendors! To see more photos, click here.

KPHA Building Public Support for Public Health Project

KPHA has received word to proceed with our implementation stage of this grant from the Kansas Health Foundation and is already meeting to discuss the next project. Amy Chesser led the planning stage and 10 strategies were identified. At the Conference we shared that first strategy funded will be the development of an employee orientation manual for public health. Many great suggestions were made for the manual. Under the questions "What information do we absolutely need in the orientation manual about PH?" Here are a few answers:

- Mission statement that all employees take seriously, so that our service delivery reflects that.
- Core functions of public health and some mention of competency expectations.
- Broad picture - 10 essentials, a narrative, not just a list
- State and national organizations-ways to increase involvement
- Basic Funding info: foundations, government, etc. why, what is their interest
- Streamlined info that would be an introduction to Public Health
- Needs to include some historical info about roots of Public Health
- Resource listing of public health partners
- Update Day in the Life of Public Health video
- Include information about trends in public - an explanation of what basic health dept serves are available
- Keep it broad and simple to not burden to read. All levels need to be aware of roles, funding, etc. and ability to build interest/knowledge at intervals
- Look at health dept structures and how frontier vs. large counties operate their depts.
- Regional Coordinators
- Educational opportunities
- Acronym explanations
- Address all types and sizes of HD structure
- Definition of Public Health

Under the question "What additional information about PH would you like to see in the manual?"

- History and legacy of public health and changes. Awareness of change and visionary thinking
- Emergency Preparedness-local heroes-why
- Public Health is for everyone-not just low income
- All other groups - Dept of Ed, military, school nurses, etc.
- Connect with Private Health, i.e. Physicians, Hospitals
- Statewide benchmarks/goals-how we've done over time
- Manual needs to be template and then applied to individual agencies
- Basic fact sheets - services defining each local HD
- Includes video history-update Day in the Life to include diverse racial group
- Disparity in KS (different at risk populations)
- Difference between lobbying and advocacy
- Value of KPHA - what other agencies do we work with?
- Instill ownership, belonging, and pride in work done
- Special populations demonstrate that special populations are diverse, not just low income in PH
- PH paradigm-how to work on Coalitions, not solo

KPHA Members Plan to Attend the APHA Conference in Boston

Although the KPHA President and Executive Director are unable to attend the Boston conference the first week in November, we will be well represented. APHA Rep Board member, Shirley Orr, and new Treasurer, Sonja Armbruster will be in attendance as well as several others that have contacted the office letting us know of their plans to attend: Mike Fox, Ellyn Mulcahy, Paul Cowan, and Dot Nary. Also the winners of the Poster Paper contest will be attending: Susette Schwartz of the Hunter Health Clinic and Susan Carr, of KUMC. We hope anyone else attending will send us a follow-up to include in our APHA files and in these updates. Last year we had quite a report on the APHA Conference in Philly.

In connection with APHA, we received word that they are launching a Get Ready Campaign to help prepare for a flu pandemic, APHA is pleased to inform you about the launch of our new Get Ready campaign. Get Ready will help Americans prepare for a potential influenza pandemic and other emerging infectious disease outbreaks and features a blog, fact sheets and podcasts. Legislative Session Just Around the Corner!

Dr. Kim Richter, KPHA Legislative Issues and Action Committee Chair, would like to get together in the coming months with members interested in meeting with Legislators after the election before the 2007 Session. Last year an informal group "AHA-KS" Alliance for Health Advocates met weekly to keep updated on the legislative activity at the capital. Tracking, networking, and building coalitions all take time, so if you have an interest in this because you are in an advocacy position, public information officer position, a health policy position, or you may be a lobbyist/legislative groupie, please, please, let Kim or Elaine know of your interest. Sonja Armbruster has agreed to once again chair the Health Day at the Capital in March, but it never hurts to start planning for the legislative session this early. Either email Kim at: KRICHTER@kumc.edu Sonja at: sarmbrus@sedgwick.gov, or me (Elaine) at director@kpha.us.

In August, Leon Vinci sent KPHA a letter asking for policy resolutions. It was too late according to the bylaws to consider them at the Fall Conference, but these sure could be the start of building a 2007 KPHA Legislative Platform:

Re: Policy Resolutions

Dear Ms. Schwartz:

Several health issues important to our state have been enclosed in this mailing. A few ideas for our Association follow:

- Smoke Free State - Although several other states around the nation have already gone smoke free, it is still time for Kansas to go smoke free. The debate concerning second-hand smoke is over and the next step is "action."
- Funding levels for Kansas citizens - Along with a dismal state spending record for public health services, the share of other funding and grants are disproportionate for Kansas. Our association should go on record citing our concern to this unfortunate situation.
- Public health funding equity - The commonly accepted and proven method of population based public health services funding has been to use a per capita formula. Our association position should recommend this policy.
- Regionalization and Infrastructure - Since the practical and scientific literature validates that public health departments with a stable population base and secure economic posture become strong and viable organizations in the public health system, the public benefits when a local health department has the proper infrastructure in order to deliver a strong public health portfolio of services and programs. Our Association's position should be to support, encourage, and develop regional (multi-county) local public health departments.
- MSA Funds for Public Health - Although the MSA funding received by Kansas was originally directed for children's health services, the trend over the past two years has been to re-channel some of those dollars into tobacco prevention areas. This of course has been underscored with the recent release of the Surgeon General's report on second-hand smoke. It should be the Association's strong policy that a greater portion of this fund be allotted for public health services. It should also be clearly articulated that any increase in the annual settlement amount be entirely directed to local public health departments across the state (on a per capita basis).
- Federal : Pandemic and All-Hazards Preparedness Act (S.3678) - Since Senator Frist (R-PA) is a co-sponsor, the bill looks promising for passage. It contains a reference to the establishment of a new federal program to assist the public health workforce via grants to graduates for educational costs that work for state and local governmental bodies. The Association needs to initiate action to support this bill, to fund this program, and to expand it to include a provision to pay off educational debt.

The recommended policy statements delineated above also lend themselves to state legislation promulgation (see my second letter).

I stand ready to assist in any way possible. Certainly if any position papers have to be written, I will be happy to participate.

Although there is not much time to get our platforms organized and underway, I am confident that this could be the year for great strides in Public Health for Kansas.

I look forward to hearing from you concerning our next steps.

Yours in Public Health,

Leon F. Vinci, DHA
Director of Public Health
